About Us

Welcome to Bromley Mencap's Training Centre.
Our centre offers disabled people, including young people and adults with learning difficulties and disabilities or autism, another choice in their education.

The centre is 'Independent Specialist Provision' which provides a range of workshops, courses and internships to support disabled people to develop life skills, employability skills and build confidence. The centre is open two days per week: Mondays and Tuesdays.

Why choose us

Our training centre works with small groups of people so we can provide person-centred tutoring and support. Our centre is ideal for students who prefer learning in smaller groups as we have a maximum of seven students per class. All of our courses are accredited which means you will receive a qualification certificate on completion.

User-led

We have worked with disabled young people and adults to develop our training centre. We have a forum of disabled users who help in planning and developing the training centre to ensure it meets the needs of our students.

This is known as co-production. Our students interview tutors and staff, are involved in planning the courses and undertake volunteering to ensure you receive a warm welcome at the centre!

Curriculum Offer

Curriculum Intent:

Our curriculum is carefully considered to reflect the needs of the local and wider community as well as tailored to any individual learning goals and aspirations. Learners will be supported with learning employability skills and vocational learning through accredited qualifications. Topics and subjects are chosen to further support learners with developing their social, communication and interaction skills, appropriate friendships and relationships with others. We aim to also facilitate access to the local community and community services.

Curriculum Implementation:

Our curriculum is delivered by trained and experienced tutors in small groups, we design and deliver subject content in the curriculum offer that allows learners to transfer key skills and knowledge. In lessons, learners are encouraged to discuss, debate and share their views on what is important to them. Core Maths and English skills are embedded and technology is utilised to enable confidence in digital and computer skills. The curriculum is sequenced so that new knowledge and skills build on what learners know and can do, and learners can work towards defined end points.

Curriculum Impact:

Our curriculum enables learners to gain greater confidence and independence. Learners know more, can remember, and apply more, meaning that they can do and achieve more when at home or in the workplace. Learner's social, communication and interaction skills continue to improve and develop through the wider tutorials and activities completed. Learners achieve qualifications and experience that will enable them to progress into paid or voluntary employment, work experience, further study and learning.
